Overview

This course will introduce you to sociological ways of thinking about gun violence. This seminar will cover a range of topics connected to contemporary debates about gun violence in North America. From drive-by shootings and stickup robberies in racialized urban communities to rampage shootings in suburban schools, this course will provide you with ways of thinking sociologically about the causes and consequences of gun violence in different contexts. Additionally, we will talk about how we can use good empirical research to design policy ideas for gun control, health care, and other topics linked to both fatal and non-fatal shootings. In addition to stimulating your sociological imagination, I hope that you will leave this course with a more critical understanding of gun violence in contemporary society.

Required Books

Course Expectations

NOTE: The prerequisite for SOC 497H1 is successful completion of a 300+ level SOC course. Students without this prerequisite will be removed at any time they are discovered.

Attendance

Attendance is mandatory.
You are responsible for all material presented in class. Students who are unable to attend class are responsible for obtaining information about any announcements that may have been made in class as well as notes on the material covered from their classmates.

Proper documentation from a University of Toronto Student Medical Certificate or college registrar is required to justify an absence.

Course Webpage

We will have a course website hosted on Blackboard. This website will contain the course syllabus, links to all the readings that are in journal article form, handouts, and course announcements. You are responsible for all the course materials and for all announcements. Please make sure to check your official utoronto.ca email addresses regularly.

Course Twitter Page

Since this is a big course, I will also create a course Twitter page. This is something that you can use to post ideas, questions, and feedback both inside and outside lectures. I encourage you to post ideas from lectures and readings to the course Twitter. Please post under #socofgunviolence. Not only will it encourage critical dialogue with your colleagues, it will also provide me with a sense of what you find interesting, puzzling, and provocative.

Assignments

You will have 5 major grades in this course which add up to 100% of your final grade (the research paper will be discussed in class):

1) research proposal (10%)
2) 1st Memo (20%)
3) 2nd Memo (20%)
4) final paper (40%)
5) participation (10%)

Plagiarism: Avoid plagiarism. It is a serious academic offense with serious penalties (see the “Code of Behavior on Academic Matters”). If you are using somebody else’s ideas, do not present them as your own, whether you are quoting exact words, paraphrasing or summarizing. Give proper references if you are using somebody else’s ideas, and use quotation marks if you are quoting. When in doubt, it is always safer to over-reference--you are not going to be penalized for that. Go to http://turnitin.com to submit your research paper online. “Students agree that by taking this course all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. The terms that apply to the University’s use of the Turnitin.com service are described on the Turnitin.com web site.”

Deadlines: Late work will NOT be accepted.* I will only make exceptions for students who provide me with email and medical documentation of an emergency 24 hours before the deadline to turn in assignments. Also, the essay must be turned in by YOU; I will not accept papers from friends in or out of the class. Similarly, these papers will not be due at the beginning or end of class. Instead, I will announce sometime in lecture when I will collect essays. I will not accept papers from students who arrive early just to drop off their papers and leave. Similarly, if you are not present when I collect these essays, your paper will be counted as LATE. There are no exceptions to this rule.

Medical documentation must include the University of Toronto’s Student Medical Certificate. I will NOT accept any other form of medical documentation. The certificate is available on the University of Toronto’s website and may be completed by a Health Services physician or by your physician.

*Late assignments will be penalized 10% for the first week after the original due date and 5% per day afterwards.

Accessibility Services: If you have documentation that you are using accessibility services, please see me as soon as possible to discuss how best to assist you in this course.
