One Course Instructor Position

SOC492H1F - New Topics in Sociology: Gender, Migration, and Citizenship

Within the past few decades, the field of gender and migration has expanded and flourished dramatically, shedding light on how gender and generational power relations within the family shape and are shaped by migration processes. This scholarship not only places gender at the centre of migration analysis but also in intersection with other axis of inequality such as race, class, age, etc. In this class we will engage the scholarship on gender and migration in a productive dialogue with the scholarship on citizenship. We will examine how gender and generational relations intersect with citizenship to shape migrant experiences in different areas such as love, work, sex, and the family.

Estimated Enrollment: 15 students

Tutorials: No

Estimated TA Support: None

Class Schedule: Mondays, 2-4

Dates of Appointment: September 1, 2019 – December 31, 2019*

*Please note: This position includes the completion of any course work and grading not completed by December 31, 2019.

Salary: $8,058 (includes vacation pay)

Academic Qualifications MA in Sociology or related field required, with evidence of good progress in PhD program Strong academic record in area required Superior undergraduate teaching at the university level directly related to the area is strongly preferred.

Description of Duties: The course instructor is responsible for the preparation of the course syllabus and the preparation and presentation of course material. It is the duty of the course instructor to attend regularly scheduled office hours. The course instructor is responsible for supervising the work of TAs assigned to this course, for preparing and evaluating course assignments, term tests, and the final examination, and submitting final marks in accordance with university deadlines.

Application: All individuals interested in this position must submit a cover letter and Curriculum Vitae; following the closing date of the posting, selected applicants may be asked for further information or documents. Please list all courses you have previously taught in the Department of Sociology, St. George Campus, University of Toronto. Specify the course code (e.g., SOC100H1) and course title (e.g., Introduction to Sociology) for each course. E-mail your application package to:

Professor Christian Caron
Associate Chair (Undergraduate)
725 Spadina Ave
Toronto, Ontario M5S 2J4
sociology.undergraduate@utoronto.ca

Closing Date: 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, May 28, 2019

This job is posted in accordance with the CUPE 3902 Unit 1 Collective Agreement. The position posted above is tentative, pending final course determinations and enrolments. The Department’s hiring Policy is available in the Department office and at the CUPE, Local 3902 office. The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons/persons of colour, women, Indigenous/Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. If during the application and/or selection process you require accommodation due to a disability, please contact Donna Ragbir at: sociology.undergraduate@utoronto.ca. As a reminder, subsequent appointment obligations may be filled on any of the three campuses.