STATEMENT OF ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We acknowledge this sacred land on which the University of Toronto operates. It has been a site of human activity for 15,000 years. This land is the territory of the Huron-Wendat and Petun First Nations, the Seneca, and most recently, the Mississaugas of the Credit River. The territory was the subject of the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement between the Iroquois Confederacy and Confederacy of the Ojibwe and allied nations to peaceably share and care for the resources around the Great Lakes. Today, the meeting place of Toronto is still the home to many Indigenous people from across Turtle Island and we are grateful to have the opportunity to work in the community, on this territory. Course Description

This course examines the labour market and employment situation of immigrants emphasizing recent Canadian experience in comparative context. Topics include:
- immigrant human capital,
- declining immigrant earnings,
- immigrant skill-underutilization,
- impact of the knowledge economy,
- racial discrimination,
- labour market structure and unionization,
- immigrant entrepreneurship
- experiences of the Canadian-born second generation.

Responding to recent global developments, including the COVID-19 pandemic, pervasive income, racial and gender inequality, particular attention is directed to the way in which the legacy of colonialism, multiculturalism, immigration and citizenship legislation, inform immigrant employment outcomes, including precarious and unpaid work. While the course focuses on the Canadian context, it draws on a geographically and historically varied set of case studies.
Learning Objectives

- Identify key historical and contemporary processes informing employment outcomes of Canadian immigrants.
- Survey the current employment outcomes of Canadian immigrants and their descendants.
- Understand and evaluate empirical work on immigration and employment.
- Critically assess the effects of globalization, multiculturalism, gender and racial discrimination on employment outcomes of Canadian immigrants.
- Contextualize the Canadian context by comparing it to select global examples.

NOTE: Prerequisites & Exclusion

Prerequisite: 1.0 SOC FCE at the 200+ level
Exclusion: SOC319H1
Recommended Preparation: SOC317Y1 or SOC336H1 or SOC366H1 or SOC383H1

Course Delivery and Format

All components of this course will be delivered online.

- Lectures: pre-recorded lectures will be posted on Quercus as a mix of MP3 videos and PowerPoint slides with audio at 12:00pm each Monday and Wednesday.

- Real-Time Group Work: graded discussion forums will be available online between 10:00am and 12:00pm each Monday and Wednesday. You are expected to be available during these timeslots to interact with your fellow classmates for graded work.

- Group Consultations: the instructor will be available for real-time group consultations through BbCollaborate from 2:00pm to 3:00pm each Monday and Wednesday. Attendance of these sessions is optional and is geared towards answering questions in real-time after you have familiarized yourself with both readings and posted lecture material.

- Office Hours: the instructor will be available for individual office hours through BbCollaborate from 3:00pm to 4:00pm each Monday and Wednesday. The TA will also be available for office hours through BbCollaborate from 11:00am to 12:00pm each Tuesday and Thursday.

- Additional Content: on several weeks, course readings will be accompanied by on-line documentaries available that you are expected to watch before the following lecture is posted.

- Mid-Term and Final Assessment: will be open-book conducted on Quercus, available between 10:00am and 12:00pm on Mondays (July 27th and August 24th respectively).

Discussion Groups: 10%

To successfully complete this exercise, it is important that you do your weekly readings (and watch the associated documentaries) in full before lecture material is posted at 12:00pm, at the end of scheduled class time.

This exercise is comprised of two components, a discussion question based on the readings and a reply to another student’s question in around 200 words.

Each Monday and Wednesday (save for our first session and the date of the Mid Term) you are expected to post one discussion question by 10:00am sharp. This question will be visible to everyone in a small discussion group I will assign you to at the beginning of the term. You will then have until 12:00pm to answer to at least one other discussion question posed by a student in your discussion group. You may respond to more than one question if you would like to. Your response does not need to be polished, but it should show critical engagement with the readings and questions posed by your peers.

Participation in each discussion session is worth 1% of your final grade for a total of 10%.

Please note you will not be able to post your discussion question once class material is posted at 12:00pm.

Reading Responses: 20% each

You will be responsible for two reading responses, each worth 20% of your grade, due on Wednesday, July 15th and Monday, August 10th by 11:59pm.

Reading responses allow students the opportunity to evaluate ideas from the readings, assessing the value and limitations of key arguments offered by the authors. Students are required to submit a total of two reading responses throughout the term (20% each). Students can select which required readings they will respond to from those listed in the instructions for each reading response posted on Quercus.
Students will use the “Reading Response Template” available on Quercus. Readings responses will cover two readings from two different sessions and contain 5 evaluative sections, where a student must identify one idea of value from each of the readings, offer one critique, explain why for each, and finally compare and contrast the contribution of the readings to the understanding of immigration and employment. Each section will be between 150-200 words in length and must be entirely in students’ own words (no quotes). The goal is for students to demonstrate a strong grasp of the readings based on their evaluations.

In-Class Mid Term: 20%
DATE: July 27th.

Students will have 2 hours to complete the Mid Term from 10:00am to 12:00pm on Monday, July 27th. The test will cover all class material posted up to the date. The goal will be to assess students’ comprehension and application of material, not the ability to memorize. The test will consist of short answers and one essay question.
More details will be provided to students closer to the test date.

Final Assessment: 30%
DATE: August 24th.

Students will have 2 hours to complete the final assessment. The assessment is cumulative and covers all class material, with an emphasis on the second half of the course. The goal will be to assess students’ comprehension and application of material. The assessment will consist of short answers and essay questions.
More details will be provided to students closer to the date.

Course Policies and Guides

Course Communication
In addition to office hours and group consultations described above in the course delivery, the course instructor and TA are also available via email. To ensure your emails receive a response, please note the following about email correspondence:
- Make sure all emails are sent through Quercus.
- Emails about assignments, tests, and course materials should first be directed to the TA.
- Avoid sending emails that ask for readily available information. Emails that ask for information that is provided in the course outline (e.g. “how much is assignment X worth”) will not receive a response.
- Every effort will be made to respond to student emails in a timely manner; however, instant or even overnight responses are not always possible. Please be patient. We will respond to emails as soon as we can, usually within 48 hours (excluding weekends and statutory holidays).

Accessibility
If you require accessibility services, please visit http://studentlife.utoronto.ca/ as soon as possible. For specific COVID-19 related accessibility concerns, please visit https://studentlife.utoronto.ca/covid-19-accessibility-faqs/.
Absence Declaration
The University is temporarily suspending the need for a doctor’s note or medical certificate for any absence from academic participation. Please use the Absence Declaration tool on ACORN found in the Profile and Settings menu to formally declare an absence from academic participation in the University. The tool is to be used if you require consideration for missed academic work based on the procedures specific to your faculty or campus. In addition to this declaration, you are responsible for contacting me to request the academic consideration you are seeking. You will be notified by the University if this policy changes.

Late Assignments
Late reading responses without a valid excuse will be deducted 5% per day, including weekends and holidays. We will not be accepting work submitted over a week late. Late discussion questions and answers to other students will not be accepted.

Missed Tests
Students who miss a test will receive a mark of zero for that test unless reasons beyond their control prevent them from taking it. Within three days of the missed test, students who wish to write the make-up test must give the instructor a written request for special consideration, accompanied by proper documentation from your college registrar or through the Absence Declaration tool on ACORN, which explains why the test was missed. The make-up test will be scheduled on Quercus. A student who misses a test and the subsequent make-up test for a valid reason will not have a third chance to take the test. Instead, the grade assigned for the missed test will be the same as the grade the student earns for the other test in this course.

Grade Appeals
The instructor and teaching assistant take the marking of assignments and tests very seriously, and will work diligently to be fair, consistent, and accurate. Nonetheless, mistakes and oversights occasionally happen. If you believe that to be the case, you must adhere to the following rules:
If it is a mathematical error simply alert the instructor of the error.
In the case of more substantive appeals, you must:
1. Wait at least 24 hours after receiving your mark.
2. Carefully re-read your assignment, all assignment guidelines and marking schemes and the grader’s comments.
3. If you still feel the grade you received is not an accurate reflection of the work that you produced, you must discuss your grade with your TA within one week of the grade being returned to you, addressing the comments they provided to you.
4. If you are unable to come to an agreement, you may request a regrade from the instructor. In your request, you must address your TA’s comments and explain why you feel they do not adequately reflect your assignment. Keep in mind that upon regrading, your mark may go up or down or stay the same.

Turnitin
The Reading Responses, Mid Term and Final Assessment must be submitted to turnitin.com for review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University's use of the Turnitin.com service are described on the Turnitin.com website. Assignments not submitted through Turnitin will receive a grade of zero (0%) unless a student instead provides, along with their assignment, sufficient secondary material (e.g., reading notes, outlines of the paper, rough drafts of the final draft, etc.) to establish that the paper they submitted was truly their own.

Academic Integrity
Academic integrity is fundamental to scholarship at the University of Toronto and beyond. Academic offenses include, but are not limited to, using someone else’s ideas in a paper or exam without proper citations, submitting your own work for credit in multiple courses, obtaining assistance from others during exams (including having someone edit your work or looking at a classmate’s work), and falsifying illness on the Absence Declaration tool. Please familiarize yourself with the University of Toronto’s Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters: https://governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/secretariat/policies/code-behaviour-academic-matters-july-1-2019

Writing Support
Each college has a writing centre with instructors who can assist you at various stages of writing projects. I highly recommend seeking help from your college writing centre for your reading responses. Find your writing centre here: https://writing.utoronto.ca/writing-centres/
Note that writing support is available through phone appointments through the COVID-19 crisis.

Course Materials & Readings

Course readings consist of journal articles and other readings that are available to read or download on Quercus or through the university’s library website. Links to associated documentaries will also be available on Quercus.
Supplementary readings will be covered in class and may be on the exam. The lecture will cover what you need to know from the supplementary readings, but if you are interested in the topics, I encourage you to read them too.

Note: Every attempt will be made to follow this schedule, but it is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor.

Session Topics Overview
