SOC212H1S - Sociology of Crime & Deviance

This course provides an overview of the study of crime and deviance. We critically examine how scholars have gone about studying crime and deviance (the methods they use and the statistics they employ) as well as the major sociological explanations for crime and deviance. We also consider the empirical evidence as it relates to the validity of these explanations and some of the policy fallout from different theoretical approaches.

Estimated Enrollment: 75 students

Tutorials: No

Estimated TA Support: 80 hours

Class Schedule: Mondays & Wednesdays, 10-12, online synchronous. Please note that, in keeping with current circumstances, the course delivery method may change as determined by the Faculty or the Department.
